Re: #98N-1038 Irradiation in the production, processing and handling of food.

WHEN WILL YOU STOP?

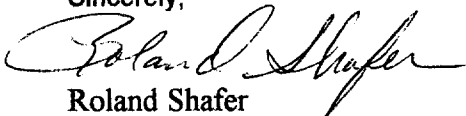

Is it not obvious that the more man intervenes the less healthy we become?

Whenever I am faced with a similar situation I am reminded of a visit to the museum of science and History in Chicago. Inside of a large glass display is the skeleton of a thirty foot Boa constrictor, it is an awesome site! but the part that is etched in my mind is the words on the plate in front of the display, they read as follows: Through magnification mans creations become more jagged and rough edged, but Gods' creations become more precise and perfect.

You see it all started when eve was tempted by Satan to eat of the forbidden fruit, remember?? He said, you will get the power of God if you eat of it. Well what is the power of God? Do we not call him the creator? What other animal on this world creates? we did get the power of God but we are not even close to his perfection. Don't you realize the world was perfect before man started creating it to his liking, or worse for greed?

Plants are perfect in Gods form, changing it to mans will only lead to imperfection!
Stop the alteration of nature! For God's sake think about your children!

Sincerely,

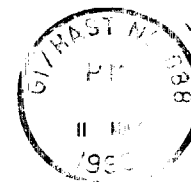

Roland Shafer
President
